

Postcard 3: Celebrating the Sacramento Region's Leading-Edge Clean Energy Educational Programs

We should also tell you...

Los Rios Community College District in the Sacramento Region launched its 2008 GreenForce Initiative, with the help of a $2,000,000 Department of Labor grant, to expand its clean energy curricula on all four campuses.

Sacramento State's College of Engineering and Computer Science, with the support of the California Energy Commission, has launched the California Smart Grid Center at Sacramento State, a key expansion of its robust power engineering program (1 of 2 such programs in California).

Sacramento State's College of Continuing Education offers a Green Business Operations certificate program for professionals implementing sustainable green practices within their organizations.

Sierra College was awarded $500,000 in funding from the California Community College Chancellor's Office to develop a photovoltaics technician training program in the Sacramento Region.